Juana Bordas on Core Values & Latino Leadership

Valuing diversity is an opportunity to grow, be proactive, and become a more effective leader. Through an interactive exchange we will begin by celebrating our personal heritage and then expand our ability to honor the traditions of others. In her book, “Salsa, Soul & Spirit”, Ms. Bordas identifies eight core leadership principles common to Latino, African-American, and American Indian cultures. We will celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month, by expanding on the leadership assets Latinos bring to our organizations. Bordas will share with us the importance of capturing these core values that resonate with those that women have followed and promote. We will explore the unique role women have leading in our multicultural society.

“Know Your Rights about Deferred Action”

This past June the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security released an Executive Memo announcing that effective immediately, certain young people who were brought to the United States as young children, who do not present a risk to national security or public safety, and meet several key criteria will be considered for Deferred Action - which is relief from removal from the country or from entering into removal proceedings. Those who demonstrate that they meet the criteria will be eligible to receive deferred action for a period of two years, subject to renewal, and will be eligible to apply for work authorization. Is the DREAM being delivered? Attorneys Barbara Graham, Gerry Grzeca, Joe Rivas, and John Sesini will provide a general outline of the parameters of the Deferred Acton policy as well as answer questions regarding eligibility for the new program. Come prepared with your questions!

UNIDAD Theatre Workshop

In conjunction with B’aktun 13 (see below), UNIDAD is a theatre workshop that explores “Ser, Communidad y futuro” (“Ourselves, Our Community and Our Future”) through ecodrama and image theatre. UNIDAD workshops use a combination of popular education and role-playing techniques to engage participants as “actors” in a dialog that provokes self-reflection. Students will participate in ecodrama scene creation and other creative writing exercises as they celebrate “individuality.”

“B’aktun 13”, a Play

Swept up in an immigration raid and deported to Mexico, Rio, Luz and Sal are suddenly immersed into indigenous prophecies surrounding B’aktun 13, the final era in the Mayan calendar. In the Yucatan, they encounter the Mayan dietyies Ixchel, goddess of water and moon, and Ahpuch, god of death, who lead the trio deeper into a mythological universe. Time revolves like a Mayan calendar as each must face the consequences of their pasts. When the end of the era of B’aktun 13 arrives on December 21, 2012, will the world change? Or will they? Brought to you by Portland, Oregon’s Teatro Milagro.

Monday, October 8, 2012 - Movie: “La Cosecha / The Harvest” (2011)

Every year there are more than 400,000 American children who are torn away from their friends, schools, and homes to pick the food we all eat. Zulema, Perla, and Victor labor as migrant farm workers, sacrificing their own childhoods to help their families survive. The Harvest/La Cosecha profiles these three as they journey from the scorching heat of Texas’ onion fields to the winter snows of the Michigan apple orchards and back south of the humidity of Florida’s tomato fields to follow the harvest.

Hispanic Heritage Award: Maricela Aguilar

The Roberto Hernandez Center continues its annual tradition of honoring individuals who exemplify achievement in our Latino community. This year’s honoree is Maricela Aguilar, a double major graduate from Marquette University and Student Organizer of Youth Empowered in the Struggle (YES!). In July of 2010 Maricela demonstrated her deep commitment to social justice by joining the thousands of immigrant students who bravely declared their undocumented status during the nationwide campaign for passage of the DREAM Act. These efforts proved to be the catalyst for the policy change made by President Obama this past June that will clear the way for young undocumented immigrants to work legally and obtain drivers licenses and many other documents they have lacked.
