This 12-week course is devoted to interdisciplinary study of Lin-Manuel Miranda’s smash musical Hamilton, looking at the play from a variety of disciplinary perspectives: literary studies, history, cultural studies, theater studies, fine arts, and more. Closely studying the musical first in its entirety and then moving through it track-by-track, we will also explore the unexpectedly wide impact of Hamilton in the larger world of popular culture and national politics, including (in multiple ways) the 2016 presidential election. Why Hamilton? Why this Hamilton? And why now? Hamilton’s immense popularity, its rich intertextuality, and its incredible internal structural complexity make it a perfect opportunity to become acquainted with academic methods that will, I hope, serve you well across the rest of your time at Marquette and beyond.

LEARNING GOALS

Upon the completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Identify, discuss, and understand various formal characteristics of musicals, particularly Hamilton;
- Apply techniques of critical analysis to musicals in general, and Hamilton in particular;
- Demonstrate understanding of the cultural and historical contexts in which Hamilton was written and produced, and in which it rose to such prominence;
- Discuss Hamilton’s relationship to the actual history of the Founding Fathers, as well as its relationship to current political debates and events;
- Use media study and cultural analysis to develop skills for careful reading and clear writing;
- Read and discuss Hamilton on the levels of both form and content.

REQUIRED TEXTS

Lin-Manuel Miranda’s Hamilton (soundtrack)
Ron Chernow, Alexander Hamilton

- The Chernow book will be used to supplement our discussions; please don’t be put off by its size!

Moana (2017) will be screened in class. All other readings will be provided via D2L.
GRADES AND EXPECTATIONS
This is a pass/fail course, which means your work will be evaluated outside the usual disciplinary framework of graded assignments. But this fact, and the fact that our chosen object of study is a hip-hop musical, should not be misunderstood to mean that our collective project is somehow frivolous or unimportant. The lack of grades is an exciting and rare opportunity for us to work and learn together in a more egalitarian context than the typical college classroom—not an excuse for you to blow this class off or fail to take it seriously.

THAT BEING SAID
This is a course about a musical (which is meant to be fun!) that is itself intended to be fun. What will make this class most fun, and most useful to you as emerging scholars, is a shared dedication to diving into this experience and getting the most we can get out of it together.

ATTENDANCE AND CLASS PARTICIPATION
Class discussion is the key component of this seminar; class discussion, not lecture, will be the primary means by which we will investigate these texts together. It is crucial that you come to class every day having read the required material and prepared to discuss it. Consequently, attendance in this class is absolutely mandatory. You should plan on attending every class. Please talk to me (in advance if possible) if you ever find you will need to miss a class meeting.

The course adheres to Marquette University’s attendance policy, which can be found on the Internet at http://bulletin.marquette.edu/undergrad/academicregulations/#attendance. You are allowed two absences over the course of the fall semester. Upon the third unexcused absence, you will receive a WA (Withdrawn—Excessive Absences) for the semester.

Merely being present in class is insufficient to earn a passing grade. Each student is expected to participate in and contribute to our discussions. Just being in the room is not enough.

D2L FORUMS
In addition to class discussion, the other major evaluative component of this course is the forum at http://d2l.mu.edu/. In addition to being a place where you can find electronic copies of the syllabus and other course handouts, D2L will be a place where you can express your response to the material before class begins and where we can continue our discussions after class is over.

The D2L forums are an excellent place for people who may feel inhibited by in-class discussion to share their opinions with the class.

Before class next Friday, every student is required to upload a picture of their face to their D2L profile, and post a short, 250-word reaction to Hamilton, Act One. After that, students should write one post per week across the remainder of the course. (You can miss up to two if you need to.) At a minimum, posts should contain a comment you wanted to make about the assigned material, a question you had and wanted to raise in our class discussion, and an “Easter egg” you noticed while you were listening. These posts should be completed by 1 PM before the class discussion devoted to that text. Additional posts beyond the requirement, and posts that respond substantively to other students’ arguments, are of course strongly encouraged.
EMAIL
Students in this class are required to check their official Marquette email account—whatever account D2L sends its emails to—at least once a day, in case there are any last-minute announcements or disruptions.

I endeavor to respond to all emails within 24 hours, usually much less.

LAPTOP POLICY
In-class use of laptops, Kindles, iPads, etc. is permitted for access to electronic versions of our texts and for notetaking. However, students must refrain from non-class-related computer use, including email, instant messaging, Facebook, Twitter, and the like. I reserve the right to ban individual technological devices if this becomes a problem. No use of cell phones will be permitted during class time except for emergencies or on rare occasions for legitimate class purposes; please turn off your ringers and put them out of sight.

FLEXIBILITY
If it will benefit the class, changes may be made to the above.

ACCOMODATIONS
Students with disabilities who believe they may require accommodations in this course should contact me early in the semester so your learning needs can be appropriately met.

I am of course more than happy to work with you to make sure you are successful in this course and to make this course most accessible for you. However, without documentation, I am limited in what I am able to do. Therefore, in order for me to help you most effectively, I need you to be proactive in contacting Marquette University’s Office of Disability Services (located on the fifth floor of the 707 Building). ODS can be reached by phone at (414) 288-1645 or by email at ods@marquette.edu.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY
Students are expected to abide by the academic honesty policy outlined in your undergraduate bulletin. I urge you all to examine this material and consult me with any questions you may have about plagiarism or academic integrity before it becomes an issue.

Ignorance of what constitutes plagiarism is not an acceptable excuse for plagiarism. Academic dishonesty of any kind will not be tolerated and will result in a failing grade for the course. No exceptions or special dispensations will be made.

Full details of Marquette’s academic integrity policy are available on the Internet at http://bulletin.marquette.edu/undergrad/academicregulations/#academicichonestypolicy.

On a personal level, I (like everyone) hate being lied to. Please, do not feel you need to concoct elaborate stories. Simply be honest with me about whatever is going on and we will work it out.
ACADEMIC FREEDOM
We all enter this classroom with preexisting political, ethical, philosophical, and intellectual commitments. You are all required to engage the material—but you are absolutely not required to agree either with any of the writers we will discuss, or with me, in whole or in part.

RESPECT
This classroom is a community. It is crucial that we treat each other with the appropriate level of courtesy and respect. No one should be made to feel unwelcome here.

Failure to treat other students with the respect they deserve will severely negatively impact your class participation grade.

KEEP THE LINES OF COMMUNICATION OPEN!
I want this class to be a meaningful and valuable experience for you. If you have any ideas, suggestions, or concerns about the way things are going, my door is always open.
